ALS

Exceptionally committed

Every Single Cargo is Precious to us

Worldwide Freight Management

We announced the launch of our new website in 2017 along with a brand new image for ALS. The new, improved image and slogan 'Exceptionally Committed' reflects our expertise inhandling transportation and the delivery of exceptional cargo with a true dedication in service and sincere companionship.

We are still part of the Wallenius Wilhelmsen group and remain registered as WWL ALS and therefore there is no change to invoicing. Since the early 1980s, our knowledgeable and experienced in-house teams have developed a strong understanding of the global requirements necessary to handle the movement of exceptional cargo and project cargo.

Headquartered in Hull, with offices all over the world, we strive to be a global logistics provider that can offer multi-modal solutions through a personal service. Our dedicated teams are innovative, reliable and specialised in construction equipment, project and exceptional cargo. Each member of the team is exceptionally committed, therefore we pride ourselves in providing clients with a professional and honest service with one reliable, local point of contact.

As a specialist logistics provider, we offer unique solutions for oversized, abnormal, exceptional and heavy lift cargo shipments by road, rail, air and sea both nationally and internationally.

The motivated in-house teams understand each and every client's needs providing a service that reflects the professional standards demanded in the business world today. We provide services from airfreighting the smallest components to arranging the transportation of oversized cargo by road or barge.
